- Imagine Monroe Vision Statement

What does CHSAB do?

Monroe's Community Human Services Advisory Board (CHSAB) advises the Mayor and City Council on programs and policies to respond persons experiencing homelessness, at risk of becoming homeless, living in poverty, adversely affected by crisis, and those in marginalized communities. The board is made up of seven voting members who have been appointed to their positions by the Mayor and Council to serve four years.

The CHSAB was established in 2020 following the collaborative work of community members serving as the Homelessness Policy Advisory Committee (HPAC) to address homelessness issues impacting Monroe. One of HPAC's recommendations was for the creation of a long-standing advisory board to continue addressing homelessness and other issues such as emergency shelters, mental health/crisis response, public education, and community partnerships.

The 7-member board is comprised of community members who live, work, and serve the Monroe community. The Mayor, City Administrator, Chief of Police, and Human Services Coordinator serve as ex-officio members.

The CHSAB focuses on, among many areas,

- Advocating in partnership elected City officials for change at the local, county and state level that will improve lives.
- Coordinating information among local citizens and stakeholders to seek thoughtful, effective, and lasting solutions.
- Providing non-binding advice and recommendations to the Mayor and City Council in the development, monitoring, implementation, and review of the City's programs, policies, and budget.

HOUSING, PARTNERS, AND PREVENTION

AWC ACTION DAYS IN OLYMPIA, WA

---

From February 6th to 8th, a group of City Council members and employees, including the Human Services Coordinator Rachel Adams, attended the Association of Washington Cities (AWC) Action Days in Olympia. The event was informative and provided a networking opportunity for City staff. During this visit, Rachel was able to advocate for continued funding for detox treatment and mental health co-response programs with AWC representatives and other leaders, such as Senator Brad Hawkins and Snohomish County Council member Sam Low.

RIVERS EDGE APARTMENT FLOODING

On January 15th, there were 25 families displaced from the River's Edge Apartments when a sprinkler system malfunction during subfreezing temperatures flooded multiple units. This apartment complex is one of the income-restricted apartment complexes in Monroe. A swift and collaborative effort between the City of Monroe, Snohomish County, and Take the Next Step successfully assisted these families with emergency housing, food, legal assistance, and vouchers for Helping Hands thrift store.

SNOHOMISH RESOURCE FAIR

On Saturday, February 24th, the Human Services Coordinator and Intern attended the Snohomish Community Resource Fair. This event hosted 15+ organizations and was a great networking opportunity to learn about the many services offered in our area. We are hopeful to offer a similar event in the City of Monroe in the future, as it was well-attended and was a great tool for collaboration and communication among service providers.

Frequently Asked Questions For Monroe Business

What is panhandling?
Panhandling traditionally refers to asking (solicitation), begging, requesting, or pleading for money in-person and in a public place. State and federal law limit how a city can regulate panhandling.

How should I report aggressive panhandling?
If you, your employee(s), or customer(s) feel threatened or harassed by a person panhandling or the person is blocking your movement on your business or private property, please call 9-1-1.

When reporting aggressive panhandling, provide as much detail as you can to the dispatch operator including the specific location (name and address of business), description of the aggressive panhandler (gender, clothing, behavior), and a call-back number to reach you.

What is the city's response when I report aggressive panhandling?
Aggressive panhandling does not occur often in Monroe. However, there are common places where panhandlers are known to solicit. Our officers are trained in crisis intervention and de-escalation and use those skills when responding to a report of panhandling.

Upon initial contact, our approach is to make friendly contact with the panhandler and respectfully ask that they cease the activity. The responding officer(s) has the authority to issue a warning or charge the person with a misdemeanor. This rarely occurs as the panhandler is often cooperative.

What if my employees, customers, or I feel unsafe because someone is acting erratically in my business or on my property?
Please call 9-1-1 or 9-8-8 to report someone who may be in crisis or under the influence of alcohol or drugs. Manage the situation respectfully, but do not confront the person. Provide as much detail to the emergency dispatcher such as the description of the person, their behavior, and why you are concerned or fearful. Please handle the situation respectfully until the police arrive.

What is the process to trespass a person from my business or my property?
Trespassing is broadly defined as entering or remaining unlawfully in or upon the premises of another when not licensed, invited, or otherwise legally privileged to do so.

Your business is an essential part of our community.

Our City's aspirational vision statement underscores the importance of having a historic downtown and other business districts that are thriving and full of locally-owned businesses. We want to ensure that our residents and visitors can find everything they need with choices for work, dining, shopping, arts, and activities. It's critical that Monroe is a safe place for all where everyone feels at home and feels they belong.

Your business is essential in delivering on this vision. While you're there for us, we're here for you. One way we are there for you is in responding to situations where people are living without a home, are in crisis, or are without jobs. We respond to these situations with our Police Department's community outreach team, our Human Services Department staff, and other partners.

With a variety of federal and state court cases and changes in state laws, cities have frequently had to change their response to these situations. The seemingly ever-changing landscape of do's and don'ts can prove frustrating to all involved to say the least. This Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) is meant to provide you with the most up-to-date information on what you and the City can do to respond to these situations.

The Monroe Police Department enforces trespassing in accordance with its municipal code (MMC 9.10.140) and State laws (RCW 9A.52). Should someone trespass on your business or your property, please report it to 9-1-1.

What is the city's response when I report a trespasser?
Upon the initial report, the responding police officer(s) will make friendly contact with the person and will typically issue a written warning. The warning prohibits the person from returning to your property for one year without your permission. If you report the same person for a second time, the person could be cited with a misdemeanor offense. Arresting the individual rarely occurs. Our approach is to be friendly, informative, and helpful. Monroe police officers are trained in crisis intervention and de-escalation and use those skills when responding to a report of trespassing.

As a follow up, you can file a Trespass Letter of Consent with the Monroe Police Department that gives police officers permission to enforce trespassing laws on your behalf, even if you are not there. To download the form, go to the city's website at monroewa.gov and search Trespass Letter of Consent.

You may revoke the Trespass Letter of Consent by contacting the Monroe Police Department at pdrecords@monroewa.gov.

What if someone is sleeping outside my business, or blocking the entrance or sidewalk?
Please show kindness and compassion. Respectfully ask them to leave your business premises. Don't be confrontational but be firm. If the person becomes agitated, inform them that you will call 9-1-1. Leave the area and call for police assistance.

How do I report unlawful camping in a city park or other public space, like a sidewalk?
If you see a tent or group of tents in a city park or public space such as a sidewalk, please call the Human Services Coordinator at 360-913-4817. The City's Community Outreach Team will be notified and respond.

What is the city's response when I report unlawful camping?
Monroe Police and other agencies are aware of common areas in the city where unlawful camping occurs. Our Community Outreach Team makes regular contact with people who are unlawfully camping and provides resource information to assist them with housing, mental health, and other human service needs.

Frequently Asked Questions for Monroe Businesses

In a unique partnership, a city police officer, the city's Human Services program manager and a Snohomish County social worker proactively engage with people who experience chronic homelessness and connect them to resources, medical assistance, substance abuse treatment, housing, and rides to appointments.

For Officer Dispatch:

Call 9-1-1 for emergencies

Call (425) 407-3999 for Non-emergencies

How can I help someone in need?

It may feel like the "right thing to do" by giving money to people with "Help Me" signs. Offering cash provides only a very short-term intervention for one person who may or may not be homeless. Instead of giving money to a person, please consider donating your time or money to a local human services organization. A list of these can be found at monroewa.gov (Search: How to Help).

How is Monroe helping people in crisis and residents who are unhoused?

Since 2014, the City of Monroe has developed new partnerships and tools to respond to residents who are in crisis or are unhoused. These tools are consistent with federal and state court decisions and changes in state laws and include arrest and potential incarceration. The following additional tools have been successful at reducing the likelihood that someone is rearrested or reincarcerated:

- Monroe's Community Outreach Team connects personally with people in need. (See back panel)
- Monroe Municipal Community Court provides social and human service support to individuals charged with low-level quality of life crimes.
- Community-based organizations help people find food, emergency shelter, drug treatment, and mental health counseling.
- Mobile Mental Health Program (Sky Valley Resource Center/Sultan) connects crisis care professionals with first responders who are assisting persons experiencing acute mental or behavioral crisis. This program can be reached and dispatched through the 9-8-8 National Suicide and Crisis Lifeline.
- McKinney Vento Act Program helps children and youth whose families are experiencing loss of housing to enroll and succeed in school.
- EvergreenHealth Monroe Recovery Center's Scholarship Bed Program supports un- and under-insured Monroe residents who need substance abuse assistance.

Ways to help those in need:

- Offer a care kit, food item, and/or water;
- Donate and/or volunteer with organizations who support people with housing and mental health needs.
